Specification

The examiner has not checked the specification to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors (grammatical, typographical and idiomatic). Cooperation of the applicant(s) is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant(s) may become aware of in the specification, in the claims and in any future amendment(s) that applicant(s) may file.

Applicant(s) is also requested to complete the status of any copending applications referred to in the specification by their Attorney Docket Number or Application Serial Number, if any.

The status of the parent application(s) and/or any other application(s) cross-referenced to this application, if any, should be updated in a timely manner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The rejections under 35 USC 112 are withdrawn in view of the amendments to the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 4-7, 9-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either US 6,489,259 or US 2002/0086793, both to Labarge et al.

The instantly claimed composition and exhaust gas treatment process involve a catalyst composition comprising copper, ZSM-5, beta zeolite and optionally promoters such as phosphorus, cerium and boron. The apparent novelty resides in the catalyst composition.

The Labarge et al. references are considered to disclose substantially the herein claimed invention. The references disclose exhaust gas catalyst compositions comprising mixed ZSM-5 and zeolite beta catalysts promoted with copper and phosphorus. The disclosed third, fourth and fifth components read directly on the herein claimed zeolites. The recited amounts of components and the ratios thereof are embraced by the reference disclosure and show substantial overlap. . The ratios of silica to alumina are also directly in the range claimed herein by applicant. Accordingly, the claims are obvious in view of the Labarge et al. references. Moreover, since the utility of the disclosed references is the same as that of applicant's catalyst, there is nothing unobvious in arriving at optimal amounts of catalytic materials from the broad disclosure of the prior art. See particularly columns 4 and 5 of the patent and paragraphs [0016] – [0027] of the Patent Application Publication document.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed July 30, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Contrary to applicant's arguments, the LaBarge documents do disclose the use of mixed zeolites, as set forth in the instant claims. In fact, the entire disclosure discusses a mixture of multiple zeolite components in the catalyst. The third and fourth components can be ZSM-5 and the fifth component can be zeolite beta. The skilled artisan armed with the disclosures of LaBarge will clearly envision a system made up of multiple zeolites carrying various promoters such as copper for the conversion of exhaust gases.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
